STANSTED AIRPORT CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE

INDUCTION

Note by the Secretary and Technical Adviser

As previously agreed, an induction event was held on 2 October. Attendance was open to all members (existing and new). Despite being held on the afternoon of the postponed STACC meeting, not all STACC members were able to attend or participate in the airside tour.

2. Members received two presentations. The first from the STACC Chairman which explained the background and context of Airport Consultative Committees (ACCs) with particular reference to the role of an ACC and the Department for Transport guidelines for ACCs. The airport presentation provided a broad overview of the airport and current and future strategy.

3. Members were then given an airside tour. This included the refurbished PRM facility and the Hive - the airport's operational hub.

4. it is planned to run another similar event and airside tour. This would take into account any feedback from Members who attended on October 2. Members will be consulted on possible dates.

5. Consideration is being given to preparing an introductory handbook which would contain background information about the airport; information about consultative committees e.g. their role, and government guidelines and background about STACC and the Working Groups; what is expected of a Member and a glossary of common aviation terms.
